"Shoot a Cop? Huh; Tones 'em Down"—W. D. Grady

(Special to Record-Herald)

SAN FRANCISCO, March 4.—"Shooting a policeman isn't such a terrible crime. It tones them down," said William D. Grady, of Richmond counsel for William Schivo, probationer, accused of being a bandit, in defending his client before Police Judge Morris Oppenheim yesterday.

Whereupon Grady, was severely reprimanded by Judge Oppenheim, who declared that only Gready's years kept the court from ordering him into custody for such sentiments against law and order.

A third charge of robbery is pending against Schivo, who is held in default of $60,000 bonds or $30,000 cash bail.

"CO-OPERATION OF EAST BAY CITIES NEEDED FOR SUCCESS OF C. OF C."—CAINE

The meeting of the Richmond Chamber of Commerce held last night in the Lincoln school auditorium was a most enthusiastic one.

President Owens in opening the meeting outlined the work being done by the Chamber of Commerce and told of the good already accomplished in securing representatives of several factories to look over sites for the purpose of establishing their plants here and said that the prospects were very bright for locating them in Richmond.

The matter of the Fourth of July celebration was taken up and generally discussed. There was a unanimous expression of desire to make this an event that will long be remembered by Richmond and the many visitors that will be brought here. A motion prevailed that the secretary be instructed to send a communication to the mayor and city council asking that a general mass meeting of the citizens of this city be called for March 16th to make detailed arrangements for the celebration.

Director Lane spoke on the subject of a new post office building and dwelled at length on the needs of more commodious quarters to accommodate the growing business at the Richmond post office.

Mr. Lane introduced and moved the adoption of the following resolution:

WHEREAS, the City of Richmond, in the County of Contra Costa, State of California, is an industrial city with a population of upwards of 20,000, and is rapidly increasing in commercial and industrial importance, and

WHEREAS, the United States post office in said City of Richmond is now located in a privately owned building, and which building is inadequate for the proper transaction of the public postal business of said city, now, there be it

RESOLVED, by the Richmond Chamber of Commerce that Hon. James D. Phelan and Hon. Charles F. Curry, our representatives in congress, be and they are hereby requested to take such proper steps as may be necessary to secure a government appropriation for the erection of a federal post office building in the City of Richmond, State of California, County of Contra Costa, ss.

I, J. A. Long, secretary of the Richmond Chamber of Commerce, do hereby certify that the foregoing is a full, true and correct copy of a resolution adopted by said Richmond Chamber of Commerce, at a regular meeting thereof held on the 3rd day of March, 1916.

J. A. LONG,
Secretary Richmond Chamber of Commerce.

The resolution was adopted. By motion of E. J. Garrard a resolution was adopted to be submitted to the state highway commission ask-

OLD CHURCH ROAD TO BE ELIMINATED AT 23RD ST.

Work of surveying a new road to join the state highway at the northerly end of Twenty-third street at San Pablo and eliminate nearly a mile of extra travel which has to be made at the present time was commenced by engineers today.

The connecting link of roadway will pass through a field at the rear of St. Paul's Catholic church and will connect with the state highway at the San Pablo creek bridge.

The new improvement will cost about $4500.

HORSE KICK MAY BLIND FRUIT PEDDLER

Manuel Silvas, San Pablo fruit peddler, kicked in the face by a fractious horse several days ago may lose the sight of both eyes as a result of the blow, according to Dr. C. E. Camp.

Silvas at the present time cannot use either eye, the optic nerve having been paralyzed by the blow.

"TOPEKA TOP" IS FAILURE AT SAN MATEO

Councilman J. B. Ogborn, City Engineer H. D. Chapman, and former inspector of streets Frank Welch made a trip to San Mateo yesterday to inspect the Topeka top streets, about which there has ben so much talk in Richmond lately.

The officials talked with the Superintendent of streets of San Mateo, and that official told the visitors that "Topeka Top" was a failure, and that city would use no more of it. San Mateo will use other pavement in the future.

Although the "Topeka top" pavement in that section has been laid but a compartitively short time, it is disintegrating very fast, and a great deal of repair work has already been put on it.

In summer time, it sems that the pavement looks very nice, as long as there is a good deal of automobile oil and dust on it, but when the first rains come ajong and this is washed off, a million cracks apear.

A careful investigation of the pavement shows that it is not waterproof, and it seems that this one defect is causing the oficials of San Mateo a great deal of trouble, for as soon as the water gets in the pavement, it is the beginning of the end.

MINATURE CIRCUS ARRIVES AT STEGE

$1000 CHARITY BALL TONIGHT

Inclement weather conditions will not in any way check the crowd of nearly 1,000 people who will attend the $1,000 charity ball at East Shore park tonight.

The auditorium at the park has been beautifully decorated by a committee in charge of Mrs. Charles Johnson for the affair which will be one of the largest attended affairs in Richmond for years.

The grand march which will start at 8:30 o'clock will be led by Mayor and Mrs. Edward J. Garrard, who will be followed by State Senator and Mrs. J. C. Owens, City Clerk and Mrs. A. C. Faris and Councilman and Mrs. W. L. Lane.

STUDENTS HOLD GAY YAMA PARTY FACULTY PUTS BAN ON "RAGGING"

Patronesses at the ball were: Principal B. X. Tucker, and the following members of the faculty, Miss Barth, Miss Reeves, Miss Kinnear, Miss Ruth Peterson, Mass Woodman, Mrs. Paul Robinson, and Miss Meyer.

Those present at the party were: Meta Ludewig, Ruth Cravis, Ethel Lambricht, Ruth Adair, Vera Lautenschlager, Helen Boyd, Helen Smith Edith Wolf, Marina Mount, Edith Delp, Francis Dexter, Elizabeth Cagqin, Hazel Nystrom, Hazel Kilmer, Doris McLarney, Valera McLarney, Evelyn Anderson, Lily Axelson, Muriel Shaffer, Mildred Best, Myrtle Best, Ruth Schrag, Marguerite Arnold, Helen Cowan, Hazel McRackenfi Mary Bentley, Louise Fanning, Edna Moore, Bernardine McFarlane, Anite Krueger, Richard Maxwell, Erwin Barr, Grover Milnes, Paul Follett, Bill Koontz, Donald Gray, George Peres, Edward Peres, Abe Horwitz, Tyrrel Stokes, Chester McAllister, Phillip Angell, Gerald Follett, Hall Stoddard, Raymond McCormick, Frank Radcliff, George Greathouse, Bayard Lang, Harold Bedwell, Ross McAllister, Otto Ludewig, Clarence Brown, Cyrus Cassidy, Adelberg Krueger, Hollaway Jones, Richard Henrich, Elmer Christian, Jules Toussaint, Errol Lane, George Stevens, Elmer Conn, Kendell Sanborn, Hilton Towers, Walter Lamore, Floyd Anderson, Hugh Selvy, Arthur Noyes, Charles Parker, Emil Esila and Harry Soto.

In charge of the various committees were: Richard Maxwell, chairman of the decorating; Vera Lautenschlager, chairman of refreshments, Clarence Brown, chairman of the floor committee and Donald Gray chairman of the clean-up committee.

CHARTER PETITIONS ARE NOW BEING COMPLETED

The petitions that are out asking the council to call an election for a board of freeholders to frame a new charter are being generally signed, and as soon as the 1000 names are secured, the petitions will be filed with the city clerk.

The talk about town is that it is far better to frame a new charter, rather than amend the present one, as so many amendments would probably be submitted that the result would simply be a general confusion.

By placing the matter in the hands of a board of freeholders, those gentlemen would have one hundred and twenty days in which to frame the new organic law of the city, public sessions of the board would be held and any citizen would have the right to appear before the freeholders and make any suggestions that he thought wise, and give his reasons therefore.

Under the law, when the petitions are filed, the names are verified, and the council then orders an election for a board of fifteen free holders. These frame a new charter and this is then submitted to the voters of the city for their adoption or rejection.

DEBATERS ARGUE ON ANNEXATION OF MEXICO

HIDES MONEY, FORGETS, TELLS POLICE HE WAS ROBBED

Last night Peter Antonia, living at 200 Standard avenue thought he heard burglars coming into his room.

He arose from his bed, took a pocketbook contaiting $50 in greenbacks from his coat and a postal savings book and placed them in an old shoe.

Then he waited and while waiting fell asleep.

This morning on dressing he noticed the absence of his money and savings book and reported it to the police.

Antonia insisted that he had been robbed.

A search of his room revealed the money and book in the old shoe.

RUSH WORK ON PIPE LINE TO PINOLE POWDER WORKS; WATER SUPPLY FAILING

Rush orders and lack of water supply from their own wells have made it necessary for the Pacific Water company to lay nearly a mile of eight inch pipe between San Pablo and Pinole for the Du Pont de Nemours Powder company.

It was not until the first of this week that the powder company noticed its wells giving out.

A rush order for an immediate water supply was placed with Superintendent L. L. Farrell and the work of laying the new pipe line commenced.

BUSINESS AFTER THE WAR

According to the conclusions arrived at by the St. Louis Globe Democrat, Herr Sydow, the German minister of commerce, has a clearer vision than some of his compatriots who have been talking of a customs union with Austria-Hungary, based on sentiment. He has told the Prussian Diet that Germany will need a world market for its industry and commerce when the great war ends, and that it would be folly to be hampered by commercial agreements based on military alliances now. This is generally true, but peculiarly so in the case of Germany, for some of that country's best customers in the past are on the other side of the present struggle. Even under the most favorable conditions, it will be difficult to regain lost trade in Russia, for example. American capitalists are looking into the situation in Russia now, planning to supply needs Germany formerly filled. The once famous label, "Made in Germany," will for a long time make no appeal to sentiment in countries of the entente and among their individual sympathizers in neutral countries. This will be overcome in time, but if, in addition to the natural hostility, Germany should discriminate in favor of its present ally, it would find the restoration of its great commerce very difficult.

The fact that Germany and Austria-Hungary are looking to the condition of business after the war should impress the people of the United States with the wisdom of also taking forethought. There is room for debate as to just what the effect of the ending of the great war will have. We know the aftermath of the Crimean war, which, owing to a free-trade tariff, brought widespread disaster in the United States. This may happen again, if we are not prepared to do whatever may be necessary for our own protection. Meanwhile, we should be expending our commerce with countries that are of necessity dependent upon us while the belligerent nations are devoting all their time and energies to destruction.

"To economize" may be an active or passive verb, according to whether it refers to the wife's activity in making over her old clothes or the husband's passivity in permitting her to deprive him of his favorite cigars and relegate him to a pipe.

When you hear a woman say: "My husband is such a quite man—you'd hardly know he's around the house," you wonder if perhaps he has learned the futility of trying to get even a word in edgewise.

Just as well to remember that the bird with the brightest feathers does not always have the sweetest song.

Nevertheless and notwithstanding it's doubted that a "dry" District of Columbia would bring any resignations from Congress.

A shortage of zinc similar to that which exists in copper is impending in the view of many well-informed metal factors. Zinc concentrates selling at $125 a ton, advancing ore prices, and the active and expanding demand for prompt spelter resulting in sales at 21.4c in London and 20c a pound in the domestic market, are cited as warranting this relief. It has surprised close observers of developments in the general metal situation that spelter has not responded to the strength displayed by copper. Statistically there is a striking similarity in the position of copper and spelter. A relative production parallel has been maintained for several years. The sharp upturn in output of copper in the latter part of 1914 bringing production to a record height at the end of 1915 was duplicated by spelter, and in spite of this enlarged production, the stocks of both spelter and copper on hand at the beginning of 1916 were materially lower than at the opening of 1915.

Four hundred and thirty-two American cities maintained neighborhood play-grounds under the direction of play leaders during the year which ended November 1, 1915. During the last two years 116 cities have established play-grounds. The number of new play-grounds secured is nearly 1,000, bringing the total number of playgrounds now in operation up to 3,294. When the Playground and Recreation Association of America was organized less than ten years ago, only a few of the larger cities ever had summer playgrounds, and many of these were supported by private funds. Now 111 cities employ 1,053 play leaders throughout the year. Reports from 97 cities where the neighborhood playgrounds are open throughout the year showed 573 year-round playgrounds.

Most men cheerfully run up a large account with Fate and then are astonished and indignant when the bills come in as a feminine bargain fiend.

The real issue presented by President Wilson's preparedness measures, is whether the United States should be a real nation or a foot-ball for others.

Sure, they have been known to say things after they quit the Senate that differed from what they said when senators.

If as many of the Republican papers insist that Elihu Root's speech was the key note of the G. O. P. campaign the party has but one issue, viz, war with Germany.

NOTES FROM THE PLAYHOUSES

PANTAGES THEATRE (Oakland)

The "Office Girls" one of the biggest features in vaudeville today, a scintillating musical act in which charming stenographers dance, sing and even tickle their typewriters to the accompaniment of lively harmony, is the big feature of the remarkable new bill to be seen at the Oakland Pantages for the coming week.

It's a gay melange of pretty girls, music to match, and all manner of joy. Dixie Harris, Belle Montrose, William Craig, and other clever comedians add to the joy of the occasion, and there's even the Ragtime Elevator Man—but his identity's a secret.

This is one of the biggest features, without a doubt, that Manager Pantages has ever "scooped" the western vaudeville world upon. It was the rage in New York. Rival circuits were begging for it, when Pantages subsidized the telegraph wires for a day—and when he was through the act was "landed." It is one of the most expensive acts in the state today.

Then there will be Rucker and Winfred, a couple of ebony hued entertainers who really entertain. Their act is different from anything of the kind ever seen before in the varieties, and one that has pleased throughout the circuit.

Ed. Gallagher and Bob Carlin, in "Before the Mast," have a sort of a sea-lay, a few quips with a nautical flavor, and then a big ocean battle. But most of all and best of all they are makers of laughs supreme. Every move is a snicker. Every grimace is a laugh. They must be seen to be appreciated.

Harris and Nolin, two girls with a single piano, make a combination that's hard to beat—but easy to "fall" for. In fact, that's the principal activities of the big audiences that have greeted and appreciated their efforts over the Pantages time.

Bessie Harvey—an Alameda girl—has a charming song-equestrienne act that proves one of the most pleasing on the bill. Keegan and Ellsworth offer "The Week Enders," a bit of laugh-material in a musical setting. And the "Violin Ragtimers" have a series of real ragtime hits charmingly offered.

Another sensational episode of "The Girl and the Game" will be seen on the bill.

YOUNG FIGHTERS STEP LIVELY IN THE BOUTS

Fisticuff enthusiasts of this city were treated to plenty of slambang action at the bouts staged by the Standard Athletic club in the Eighth street arena last evening.

Featuring the evening's fight card was the draw which Jimmy Dundee and Joe Gorman, fought. From the gong in the first round until it sounded in the fourth frame these boys showered blow after blow on each other.

In the West-Sylvester go, the judges decided a draw although West seemed to have a shade during the early rounds.

Tony Sherrer and Spider Kelly split honors for the evening, while Blondie Richmond punched his way to a decision against Mike Gibbons of Oakland.

Considerable Amusement was provided in the last bout of the evening when Kid Thompson of San Pablo with big circling swings attempted to floor Willie Conners of Butchertown.

Connors was given a decision.

MARTINEZ, March 4.—This is the solemn time of the year when a fellow begins to take a gloomy view of the worth of all that he has accumulated and underprize that coming to him by the probate route.

It is now past the first Monday in March when the county assessor comes out of his hole and stays out until he has inventoried everything in sight.

Lands worth hundreds of dollars an acre shrink in value to pasturage prices and roosters in which pulses the blood of lordly strains are not worth putting to soup uses. JONES WILL NOT BE CANDIDATE FOR TRUSTEE

HAVE DARK HAIR AND LOOK YOUNG

Don't stay gray! Nobody can tell when you darken gray, faded hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and attractive with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, all ready to use, for about 50 cents. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and beautiful. This preparation is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

AT RICHMOND THEATRE

Headed with "An Eve at the Circus in Mexico," an act by the Les Kellions, which is far above the average, the Sunday vaudeville show at the Richmond theater tomorrow promises to eclipse anything which has ever been given at the popular playhouse. The show is replete with the interesting, the exciting and the comical, so much so that a number of genuine surprises have been promised by the mangement.

Bruce and Calvert in "The Happy Hollanders" give an extremely jolly performance which has just finished a successful run with the Pantages circuit. Devrow and company will produce a complete playlet entitled "The Cattle Thief" which is a revival of real melodrama and refreshing after the many problem plays of the day.

Then there will be singing by Lulu Carter, the delightful comedienne, and a number of first-class pictures. "The Toilers of teh Sea" will be one of the special films shown. "Hot Heads and Cold Feet" is a delicious comedy and "The Review of Brittany" will also be shown.

NEXT FRIDAY TO BE CANNED SALMON DAY

Canned Salmon day will be observed throughout the United States on next Friday, March 10. Just as raisins find their place on every table in the country on California Raisin day, so canned salmon will form the official article of food on next Friday.

CO-OPERATION NEEDED

ing that body to give immediate attention to the improvement of the state highway between the junction of the Santa Fe tracks and San Pablo avenue, to the county line.

Joseph E. Caine, secretary and managing director of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce and Commercial club made a pointed and interesting address. He spoke of the needs of every citizen taking an interest in his Chamber of Commerce and backed it up not only with his little dollar a month but by attending it's meetings and taking an active part in them. Among other things of interest that he said was:

"Cities, like individuals, must find themselves, each one determining what it is best fitted for, and then work to the end of perfecting itself along that line. Richmond is fortunate in having found itself at the very beginning of it's existence in realizing that it has superior advantages as a manufacturing town, and its development along these lines shows that it has gone out after the things for which it is best fitted." Mr. Caine spoke of the needs of co-operation of east bay cities for their mutual welfare, for no one of these cities could receive any prominent benefit but what it reflected some prosperity to its sister cities. Frederick Boegle secretary of the manufacturers committee of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce gave a short and interesting talk that was much appreciated by his hearers.

Mayor E. J. Garrard spoke on Chamber of Commerce work, and his remarks were met with much applause.

The speakers of the evening were Mayor Garrard, President Owens, Councilman Lane, Rev. Frank Linder, Joseph Caine and Frederick Boegle.

FIRST SAVINGS BANK ORGANIZED IN STONE COTTAGE IN SCOTLAND

Idea Was Not Long In Crossing Atlantic and Taking Root In Our Virgin Soil—Today Thrift Institutions Prove the Backbone of Our Country.

IN a little stone cottage in Ruthwell, Scotland, in 1810 the Rev. Henry Duncan established the first savings bank which was organized and operated on the recognized savings bank principle which is: that from the deposits received, the bank should, by judicious investment, earn enough to pay the expenses of management, pay interest to the depositors and establish a guaranty fund to protect them from losses incident to all business.

Dr. Duncan was by no means the first to see the need of a safe depository for the savings of the people, for several others as high minded, but not so practical, had theretofore attempted to establish savings banks, but in their zeal to make the proposition attractive, combined features that smacked of charity, and therefore failed as business ventures. As early as 1798 the "Wendover Bank" was instituted by the Rev. Joseph Smith, who with two rich parishioners agreed to receive sums on deposit and repay the same at Christmas with a bonus of one-third the amount deposited. It was in substance like our modern "Christmas Club." Priscilla Wakefield in 1799 organized a society to receive certain sums on deposit monthly, according to age and to pay the same as a pension after sixty years of age. In sickness a weekly benefit was allowed, and on death a funeral benefit. This was in substance like our modern "Sick and Aid Societies" so common among European nations. But Duncan's plan was the only one to prove adaptable to all peoples and to all times, and which would support itself. His bank would sustain itself on the earning power of money, rather than on the money earning power had accumulated. From the humble Scottish village the idea spread throughout England and Ireland and Scotland until there were over two hundred such banks in 1816.

As an outcome of Duncan's bank, grew the Edinburgh Savings Bank, which dates from 1814 and which is still in existence. It was in this bank that we find the same methods as are still in vogue, the modus operandi of the savings bank having changed but little in the century past. This bank issued pass books, the recognized form of savings bank evidences of indebtedness. It was managed by a body of trustees who gave their services gratis. It paid all depositors the same rate of interest. It had no stock and consequently no stockholders. It was a mutual institution. It sought safety first and profits afterward. It sought the highest forms of investment, namely government bonds.

Owing to the close association between the mother country and the colonies, it was but natural that any movement that succeeded there should be adopted here, and the idea was not long in crossing the Atlantic.

The new country had its problem of poverty no less than the old, and in the endeavor to ameliorate the condition of the lower classes numerous undertakings were begun, which were based on the sick and aid society idea. Even lotteries were legalized in the attempt to alleviate the current distress Tammany Hall was originally instituted as a society to "afford relief to the indigent and distressed members, their widows and others." Fully forty such societies were organized for similar purposes before the advent of the savings bank.

Historians are in doubt as to whom is due the credit of bringing the idea over to America, but it is conceded that Patrick Colquhoun, a London Magistrate, wrote Thomas Eddy of New York a letter in 1816, outlining the plan then in successful operation in England. A similar pamphlet fell into the hands of James Savage of Boston in the same year, and the first public announcement of a savings bank in this country appeared in the Christian Disciple, a small religious paper, in December, 1816. This article stated that such institutions were in successful operation in England and Scotland and that such a bank was proposed for Philadelphia. The plans for the Boston bank must have been well matured, for in December of 1816 the "Provident Institution for Savings in the Town of Boston" was chartered, being the first public act of legislation in the world which recognized the beneficial character of the savings bank. This bank in five years had deposits of $800,000 and paid one per cent. quarterly.

Following the letter received from his English correspondent, Mr. Eddy and a group of public spirited men began an agitation that culminated in the Bank for Savings, now located at Fourth Avenue and Twenty-second Street, New York, a hundred-million-dollar bank. In the meantime, Philadelphia had been busy, and organized the Philadelphia Savings Fund Society, which opened its doors on Monday, December 2, 1816, being the first bank of its kind to open for business on the Western Continent.

In spite of this early beginning, the savings bank, as a mutual institution has remained a New England institution, in that this type of bank has never become a financial factor in the West and South, there being less than fifty of these banks west of Buffalo and South of Baltimore.

According to latest reports, there are 634 banks of the mutual type, located as follows: Maine, 48; New Hampshire, 46; Vermont, 21; Massachusetts, 190; Rhode Island, 15; Connecticut, 84; New York, 140; New Jersey, 26; Pennsylvania, 10; Delaware, 2; Maryland, 18; which accounts for all but 34 in the United States.

The deposits in these six hundred banks total $3,915,026,190, of which $1,700,63,766 is in New York, followed by Massachusetts with $861,416,889. In depositors New York likewise leads, having 3,114,240 depositors, while Massachusetts has 2,249,824.

These figures do not include the stock savings banks, of which there are upwards of 1,300 in various parts of the country, nor banks of discount operating savings departments. Nor is it to be inferred that one is better than the other; but the Centennial celebration which commemorates a century of savings banking is to do honor to the mutual savings bank with no disparagement to other types, whose history is not so clearly defined, although their operation may have done as great a good. In his first message to the Legislature in 1820, Governor Clinton of New York characterized the savings bank as "an institution to cherish meritorious industry, encourage frugality, and to promote the welfare of families, the cause of morality and the good order of society." And he was right. It has done all this in thousands of instances for a hundred years and well merits all the honor and credit that may come to it after a century of honorable conduct.

SANFORD IS IN CHARGE WALL'S SECOND ADDITION

W. H. Sanford, the well known real estate man who has probably sold more Richmond lots than any other agent in the city, has again taken hold of subdivision work he has been appointed as resident agent and maneger of Walls 2nd addition, where the big factory of the General Roofing and Manufacturing company is now being erected and will have his offices at the corner of Twenty second and Macdonald avenue.

As this new factory will mean an investment of $750,000 and employment for about 400 men when completed, the chances for investment in the northern section of the city, and big quick profits are very great.

All the street work and sewer work, and water mains are in, in Walls second addition. It is just a matter of getting your lot and erecting a house on it.

There is going to be a big demand for houses in that section in the near future, and the wise man, will take time by the forelock and get in on the ground floor.

When the Pullman shops were located here, Mr. Sanford had charge of the tracts surrounding the property, and closed out all of the lots for Mr. Wall.

MAY PROVE FATAL

When Will Richmond People Learn the Importance of It?

Backache is only a simple thing at first;

But if you find 'tis from the kidneys;

That serious kidney trouble may follow;

That dropsy or Bright's disease may be the fatal end,

You will be glad to know the following experience.

'Tis the statement of a Richmond citizen.

Philomena M. Brier, 511 Ninth St., Richmond, says: "Dropsy, which was shown by swellings of my limbs, shortness of breath and fluttering of my heart was my most serious trouble. I suffered from severe attacks of backache, my head ached often and I had dizzy spells and a tired, wornout feeling. Since I heard about Doan's Kidney Pills, I have used them whenever these attacks have come on me and in a short time they have fixed me up all right."

HOW TO CULTIVATE THRIFT.

First learn to distinguish between luxuries and necessities. You do not need all you think you need, and certainly not all you buy. You want things because you see them—that is what shop windows are for. Second, learn to know good value. Learn where and when and how to buy. Learn to know good meat from bad, nourishing from the worthless. Learn to judge clothing and shoes, and buy good material—it pays in the end. Third, keep track of your expenses. Know how much it costs you to live, and how much you spend on various items of the household. Limit your "pleasure money" and choose wholesome pleasures. If you like the theater, learn where to see the good plays at reasonable prices, and go consistently.

BIG FILM WITH A BIG MESSAGE HERE

A sermon was delivered at the Regent theater last night—a twentieth century sermon entitled "The Battle Cry of Peace."

It was a moving picture sermon which will be preached every day in the future, as long as people will look at it, and it is a sermon most of us need.

It is the reviewers task to choose a course between extravagant superlatives and the commonplaces of mere fact. "The Battle Cry of Peace" does not make for moderation. It causes the blood to pour through the veins, driven by a heart aroused over the prophetic picture of a vital menace of the future, rather than a sentimental portrayal of past history. It is an unapoligized-for appeal for preparation against war and that it demanded no apology was evidenced by its enthusiastic reception by a large audience.

Of the indiviual performers Charles Richman stands out above the rest. He cannot help it; he was given the part; but the work of Belle Bruce as Alice Harrison discloses that sch is an emotional actress of more than ordinary ability. Mary Maurice, as the mother, maintains her right to honorable mention, as do the other principals.

"The Battle Cry of Peace" will be seen for the last time in Richmond tonight. First performance 6:45 p. m., second at 8.50 p. m.
